

KEEP CAPS FROM KIDS

Always keep liquid laundry detergent capsules away from children

Liquid laundry detergent capsules are products to help you use just the right amount of detergent for your washing needs; they are used daily by millions of consumers. Whilst they are safe when used as intended as outlined on the product package, please store them in a safe place before and after use and always keep them out of reach of children.

The companies placing these products on the market take your safety very seriously and guidance on their packs is provided in order to guarantee the safe use of their products for your family.
